

This document is created from many sources, and from my desire to learn more about Frankoma. This document is just a guide and should be used as such. Prices listed are taken from different sources, and should be used as a reference only. Color, markings, age, availability of pieces should be used to judge the actual price. The low price is current clay, color, and availability. The high price is usually for Ada clay, no special marking, no special/old color. Again color, age, markings, etc. will affect the price.

People ask about chips, grazing, chigger bites, etc. and how that affects the price. I do not have a good answer for that. I have collected pieces like this, for one of two reasons. One is that I want the item because of color, availability, or need it to finish out something. Two, I collect it until a better item comes along. People ask about what this does to the price. Again, if you want it, you will pay the asking price. Yes, it should affect the price, but by 10%, 20 %, etc., I can not say, and I don't think you will get anyone to say.

The book column should be used to get more information on the piece. "C" stands for Susan N. Cox, Book 1 or 2. "B" stands for Phyllis and Tom Bess, 1 for Treasures, and 2 for Frankoma and Other Oklahoma Potteries, 3 for the Revised editon. "G" stands for Collector's Guide to Frankoma Pottery by Gary V. Schaum. "S" stands for Maxine and Howard Saddler, and her document. "P" stands for the Pot & Puma newsletter. You can go to these books to see a picture of the piece, or other information on the piece.

The (...) in the information column usually means that this item was also created under this number at an early time. In other words this could be a re-issued item. We are still finding pieces not listed in any other guides with no numbers on them. Sometimes we'll find one with a number and still not listed. The more you get into collecting Frankoma, the better you will get at recognizing colors and shapes that reflect Frankoma's history.

I would like to thank Susan N. Cox, Phyllis and Tom Bess, Gary Schaum, Maxine and Howard Sadler, and the FFCA Pot & Puma staff and contributors for their input, from their books for this information. I have used the information from the books and documents created by these people, and do not intend to infringe in any way upon their copyright.
